PALMER COURSE

Don't be misled by the 6641 yardage on this par 71 Arnold Palmer creation. It is a stout test. While many of the holes provide generous driving areas, the firm green fairways are contoured to resemble a rolling New England course. Level ground is rare. Facing the green from the slanting fairways, the small elevated emerald islands are framed by white-faced bunkers, azure ponds and gently swaying palm trees. Hilly lies and the sweeping Florida breezes make it difficult to attain the accuracy needed to find these targets. The Tif-eagle greens are firm, fast and undulating, allowing only a crisply struck shot to hold their surface. Surrounding the greens, the thick, gnarly Bermuda rough tangles around the club and complicates the soft touch needed to play short pitch shots. Miss the green and you face a difficult par. Several holes require length; all reward finesse.

SADDLEBROOK COURSE

As you travel the lush, green fairways set in a hammock of cypress and oak, the natural beauty of the par 70 Saddlebrook Course will transport you back in time to the Florida of the Conquistadores. The signature hole, the 425 yard 18th, magnifies this sensation. The drive must be sent down an emerald ribbon between stands of towering cypress, whose branches are adorned with Spanish moss, swaying gently in the breeze. Three white-faced bunkers in the landing area are framed by the lush green of the fairway. The soft afternoon sunlight glints softly off the deep pond fronting the green. Gators and turtles rest on the pond's bank. Blue herons stand in the water waiting for lunch to swim by. White egrets and wood storks nest noisily in the trees. Go for broke or lay up safely? Two solid, aggressive shots will reach the green and award the player with par. Whatever the score, this course will provide a relaxing and satisfying experience that you will want to repeat.
